New Controls Law Is Signed By President

Truman Serves Notice That Wage Increases Will Be Necessary

By FREEMAN FULBRIGHT
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—President Truman served notice today that wage increases will be "necessary" to offset profit rises which he said the new economic controls law will allow.

Dipping his pen in ink and vitriol, the president called the act "the worst I ever had to sign" and added that it "will do great harm to our prices and wage controls."

He declared: "The full extent of the damage cannot be determined until the executive agencies have had sufficient time to study the legislation in detail."

When they complete their study he said, he will ask Congress again for stronger legislation "to give us the tools to fight inflation."

The promise of pay hikes was foreshadowed by Mr. Truman's advice that "reasonable" wage adjustments will be "necessary" to balance price and cost of living rises permitted by the act.

He said: "We cannot ask the working people of this country to reduce their standard of living just to pay for the higher profits this act provides for business."

Signs Measure

Five hours before the present act expired, the president signed the new measure which relaxes credit restrictions on some items, bans beef price rollbacks and eliminates livestock slaughtering quotas.

The chief executive explained that he would have vetoed the bill had it not also continued rent controls and present production and materials allocation authority. Mr. Truman directed his bitterest criticism at the quota, price and rollback provisions. He said "it is already clear that the principal effect" will be to raise ceiling prices at all levels.

He added: "Moreover, the act prohibits further rollbacks in the price of (Continued on Page Two)

Local residents were "flying saucer" minded this morning, when what appeared to be a transparent white balloon, which glistered in the sunlight, was noticed floating above the city about mid-morning. It may have been a balloon released by the U. S. Signal Corps from some nearby airfield, but it hardly seemed to be a flying saucer, as it appeared to be perfectly round in shape. Many local residents saw it and reported it to the News.

A decided improvement is being made on a lot at the intersection of Taylor and Pearson streets near the old city storage garage. The lot which was formerly in an unkept condition is being smoothed out perhaps for some building purpose.

City drinking fountain water, is cool and refreshing, is not only being consumed on the spot, but is now being consumed at home. Pa. News observed one young lady at the east side fountain east of Croton avenue filling a canteen with the refreshing liquid.

Driving with arms out of cars is bad practice which is being pursued locally. Particularly among children is the habit prevalent. It is an easy to lose an arm or have one badly injured either on a passing vehicle or on a utility pole.

Various mountain ash trees in different parts of this locality are beautiful with their small scarlet berries. Pretty leaves of these trees (Continued on Page Two)

Looks Rather Unhappy

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Truman doesn't look very happy as he holds the compromise controls bill after he signed it into law at the White House on Tuesday. He criticized it as "gravely deficient" in the battle against inflation.

How New Controls Will Affect Average American

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Here is what the new economic controls bill means to Mr. and Mrs. average American—

Credit Controls

If you want to buy a new or used car, you can go out today and make a deal to pay for it in 18 months instead of 15 months as under the old law. But you still must plunk down one-third of the total price as a down payment.

Should you want a television set, a refrigerator, a new rug, or any such household appliance or furnishing, your own payment now needs to be only 15 per cent of the total cost instead of 25 per cent, and the payoff time is 18 months instead of 15.

Rents

Your landlord can boost your rent 20 per cent over what you were paying in 1947. But if he has been granted an increase since 1947 he will have to deduct that from the new figure.

U.S. Superforts Blast Enemy Rail Junction

(BULLETIN)
EIGHTH U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 2.—(Thursday)—(INS)—American Superforts blasted an important enemy railroad junction on the main West Korean line Wednesday in a continuation of strikes against enemy transportation routes.

The big bombers used radar to pierce a heavy undercast and unloaded nearly 100 tons of high explosives on marshalling yards at Sariwon. The railroad city lies on the main line which leads southeast to Kaesong, the "Armistice City," and north to Pyongyang, the Red capital.

The Far East air force reported that results of the heavy strike were generally unobserved because of the soupy weather.

B-29 commanders radioed headquarters that they had encountered no enemy aircraft and no anti-aircraft fire.

Ground contact with the enemy was reported generally light in an Eighth Army communiqué. United Nations patrols on the western front near Korangpo ran into light enemy resistance. To the east in the Choson area, an allied tank-infantry patrol encountered an enemy mine field.

The communiqué said "little or no significant" action was reported from both the central and eastern fronts.

Petsche Will Seek To Form Cabinet To Serve France

PARIS, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Former French Finance Minister Maurice Petsche tonight accepted President Vincent Auriol's invitation that he try to form a new coalition government.

The national assembly will vote Thursday on whatever middle-road cabinet selection Petsche presents. The premier-designate is an independent conservative party member.

U.N. Considers New Plan To Smash Red Aggression

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Aug. 1.—A plan to forestall or smash any Communist aggression through military, political and economic action is ready today for consideration by the UN collective measures committee.

Based on lessons learned in the Korean war and the current difficulties of negotiating a cease-fire, the anti-aggression blue-print is designed to coordinate activities of UN members and non-members under a single centralized "high command."

Major Objective

A major objective is the elimination in future "Koreas" of situations where one or two major powers must bear the burden of fighting the aggressor alone for an indefinite period, as did the United States in 1950 after the North Koreans swept across the 38th Parallel.

A special five-man group of the 14-nation collective measures committee which drew up the plan stressed that only by establishing a closely interrelated pattern of military, political and economic measures can UN hope to cope successfully with aggressors or threats to the peace.

The plan includes a proposal for compensating those nations hard hit by sanctions applied against an aggressor. The purpose is to remove objections to the application of an embargo such as against Communist China because the British maintain that the crown

Youth Drowns In Quarry Pond

Fail To Revive Hillsville Boy

Efforts of companions to resuscitate Frank Joseph Barber, aged 15 years, of Hillsville, who was drowned in a pond in the old Eskine quarry, just this side of the Ohio state line, in Mahoning township, proved fruitless Tuesday afternoon. He was pronounced dead at the Jameson Memorial hospital where he was taken in an ambulance summoned from Lowellville, O.

The boy had gone to the pond, which is some distance from his home, with Ronald Benedict, aged 12, a neighbor boy, where he joined others living in that vicinity, in swimming. According to Ronald, Frank was swimming in the pond when suddenly he heard him call for help, just before he sank. This was about 1:30 o'clock. His body was recovered by Tom Dando, aged 15 years, of R. D. 2, Lowellville, one of the group in swimming at the pond, about 15 minutes after he disappeared. The boys attempted to revive him by using artificial respiration.

Efforts Are Futile

Later, they were joined by Bill Richards, Lowellville, O. fireman, who with Lowellville police had been summoned to the scene, but they too were unsuccessful. Coroner Charles E. Allen, after investigating the circumstances expressed the opinion that the drowned youth had evidently suffered a cramp. He had dove in and swam across the pond, and was returning, when he sank, witnesses stated.

The youth was born in Hillsville, October 9, 1935, son of the late Joseph Barber and Mrs. Geraldine Zarrella Barber. He resided his entire life in the district and had attended the Mahoning township school. He was a junior at the Bes-

Order Anti-Sub Charges On Coast Guard Vessels

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The late Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, took one final step before his death to protect the United States by ordering the arming of 101 Coast Guard vessels with anti-submarine depth charges.

Sherman also expressed the opinion that "at the present time the situation is . . . more critical than it has been since the end of the last war."

This was disclosed today in Sherman's last testimony before a congressional committee. He died from a heart attack in Naples, Italy, July 22, during a European inspection trip.

Lattimore To Get Chance To Make Denial

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Chairman McCarran (D) Nev. said today that Owen Lattimore will get a chance to deny before the Senate Anti-Subversive Committee that he ever was a part of the Soviet military intelligence apparatus.

Lattimore said in Baltimore he would "be delighted" to reply to the statement of former Russian Brig. Gen. Alexander Barmine that Lattimore and American newspaperman Joseph Barnes were mentioned by the Soviet intelligence chief in 1935 as "our men". Barnes called Barmine's story "fantastic" and untrue. He said he never had been a Communist, a Red sympathizer or "an agent for the Soviet Union." Nor, he said, had he ever been a "willing participant in the kind of political warfare through personal denunciation in which the Communists and ex-Communists and ambitious politicians are now engaged."

Barmine, who is chief of the Voice of America's Russian desk, said he submitted this same evidence to the FBI before the Senate probe which cleared Lattimore of charges by Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., that the State Department's Far Eastern advisor is "a top Russian spy."

The former Russian's testimony yesterday revived the controversy over Lattimore and also touched off new demands that FBI records be made available to Congressional committees.

Sen. Lodge (R) Mass., a member of the committee which cleared Lattimore, said the security file he saw on the foreign affairs consultant made no mention of Barmine's testimony.

Gives Testimony

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Alexander Barmine, former Soviet Brigadier General in Military Intelligence, testified before Senate Judiciary Subcommittee that Stalin's brother-in-law was among the founders of the Russian Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Stalemate On Neutral Zone Is Not Broken

Unofficial Source Hints That Reds May Agree To Compromise

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. N. S.)

UN TRUCE CAMP NEAR KAESONG, Aug. 1.—The Allies cited International Law today in a new but futile effort to break down Communist insistence on Korea's 38th Parallel as a truce line and get Red acceptance of a "realistic" buffer zone.

Though the attempt failed, a hint was thrown out by an unofficial but well-informed pro-Communist source that the Red delegation at the Kaesong conference might accept a cease-fire belt located between the battlefield and the parallel.

But the deadlock continued as another—perhaps decisive—meeting was scheduled for Thursday.

In a lengthy analysis of the debate which has stalemated the talks for six days, Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, chief Allied delegate, ripped into the Red arguments for an armistice line astride the artificial parallel border.

Demarcation Line

The Red radio at Pyongyang said that Joy proposed a demarcation line extending from Kaesong on the east coast southwestward to the eastern edge of the Ongjin peninsula. Kaesong lies 46 miles north of Parallel 38.

The United Nations Supreme Command, issuing yet another "no progress" report, said Joy once more re-emphasized the unflinching Allied demand for a "realistic demilitarized zone equitable to both belligerents."

Brig. Gen. William F. Nuckolls, a briefing officer who attends the Kaesong sessions, quoted Joy as having firmly told the five-man Red delegation Wednesday: "Since this is a military armistice conference, we are interested only in military realities."

Military Armistice

The stern-visaged American admiral, in a 73-minute statement which was the lengthiest so far made at the Kaesong parley, then read from an article in the International Hague Convention on Warfare stating: "A military armistice is a suspension of military operations by mutual agreement of the belligerent parties."

Joy developed this point, apparently, in support of the UN thesis that the fighting in Korea should be stopped along approximately the present front, most of which lies north of Parallel 38.

The UN high command, moreover, maintains that the parallel dividing line between North and (Continued on Page Two)

Government To Reduce Private Home Construction

By WILLIAM KERWIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, August 1.—The government completed action today on a drastically revised construction controls order cutting private home building 40 per cent this fall to the lowest levels since January, 1949.

It was estimated that housing output under the new national production authority regulation would be reduced to about 51,000 units a month in October, November and December.

Moreover, proposed NPA ceilings on the amount of steel, copper and aluminum builders may use in constructing single-family houses have been slashed more than 50 per cent.

Tighten Controls
The new regulation is in line with a general tightening of government controls on construction to save urgently-needed steel and other scarce materials for the defense program.

Virtually all types of heavy building including schools, hospitals, factories and plants and stores, are expected to be hit severely by the new order scheduled for publication Friday.

Officials asserted that the defense production administration's allocation of 180,000 tons of steel for home building in the fourth quarter means a total of 155,000 housing units may be built during the three-month period.

This includes public, private and defense housing but does not cover steel for college dormitories and homes built on military camps, posts and stations.

colony of Hong-Kong would practically be starved out if a total economic blockade were instituted.

Ten Points

The ten points in the blueprint are:
1. The United Nations should alert itself for immediate action in any emergency.

2. Both U. N. member states and non-members as well should participate in the anti-aggression program.

3. Economic and financial sanctions against an aggressor state should be flexible enough so as not to harm participating states.

4. Member states should cut all red tape in advance so as to permit speedy and effective action against aggression.

5. Since sanctions measures will "impose unequal economic sacrifices upon states," provisions should be made to compensate any country affected by sanction moves.

6. Steps must be taken to ensure full application of sanctions and to prevent circumvention and non-cooperation by other states.

7. States participating in collective action should not be subject to legal liabilities arising out of sanction moves.

8. An "appropriate body" should be established to assume control and direction of collective action and imposition of sanctions.

9. The U. N. should keep check on member governments regarding the degree of cooperation in maintaining collective action.

10. Maximum cooperation should be obtained from UN specialized agencies, such as the world health organization, and other international bodies.

NEW CONTROLS LAW SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

beef, and makes effective rollbacks on other vital cost-of-living commodities practically impossible.

He described the removal of slaughtering quotas as "one of the worst provisions" because, he said, it will encourage "the return of black markets."

New Price-Fixing Orders

The president's signature was affixed to the law just as the office of price stabilization finished issuing 28 last-minute price-fixing orders within a period of five hours.

Six of the orders authorize addition of post-Korean cost increases to pre-Korean prices for thousands of manufactured items including some processed foods, clothing, shoes, and home appliances.

Five other orders rolled back prices of such items as rubber products and industrial scrap.

Officials refused advance predictions of the effect of today's scheduled regulations on retail prices of food and other commodities.

Simultaneously with Mr. Truman's action, the federal reserve board announced new consumer credit regulations conforming with provisions of the new bill which relax installment buying terms on autos and household furnishings.

At the same time, the wage stabilization board extended its approval of "escalator" pay increases "indefinitely pending adoption of further board policy."

That means further rises in the cost-of-living will result in additional wage increases for thousands of auto workers and employees in other major industries.

designated critical defense areas, you will find that a rent rollback to the figure prevailing before the Korean war broke out is permitted.

Food
The 10 per cent live beef price rollback which was in effect before the president signed the new law is retained, but the Aug. 1 and Oct. 1 rollbacks the government wanted are eliminated.

There is little chance that you are going to pay less for farm products.

Under the new law, farm prices may be rolled back to 90 per cent of the May 19 level, but not, in any case, below parity. This means that about the only farm products due for possible price reduction are wool, cotton, lamb and calves.

Wages
President Truman, who blasted the new law to a fare-thee-well, charging that it will push prices up and increase the danger of black markets, promised organized labor that workers will get "reasonable adjustments in wages."

The chief executive presumably meant that the "reasonable adjustments" will be worked out under "escalator" clauses in union-management contracts, which the government wage board has approved until a new policy is worked out.

Home Repair and Improvements
If your house needs fixing, you now will have three years to pay for it instead of 30 months.

New Homes
Federal restrictions on private home financing are eased to encourage building of housing in critical defense areas.

Notice
Members of Neshannock Post, 315, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are requested by Commander Ed. Coyne to report at the post rooms, Friday morning, August 3, in full uniform, for the military funeral of John Bartberger, P.F.C., U. S. Army.

P.F.C. Bartberger of R.D. 2, New Castle, was killed in action in Korea.

The military escort will proceed to Burke's Funeral Home, North Jefferson street, then to St. Joseph's R. C. church, where services will be held at 9 a.m.

Members should meet at the post rooms at 8 a.m.

A large bouquet of roses is due one local motorist who performed a duty on Tuesday afternoon which was appreciated by at least one person. The car driver while waiting for a red light to change at Mercer and East Washington streets, discovered a blind man attempting to cross the street.

Quickly the driver hopped out of his car, led the man safely across the busy intersection and then jumped in his car and pulled away. An impatient driver behind loudly tooted his horn for traffic to move while the samaritan act was being performed.

NEW YORK—INS—Lt. Col. A. T. Gardner will seek speeds of more than 200 miles per hour when he drives his special British MG, the Magic Midget, over the Bonneville Salt Flat in Utah, August 20. Lt. Gardner hopes to set 12 new international land speed records.

STALEMATE ON NEUTRAL ZONE IS NOT BROKEN

South Korea is a "political" border which has nothing to do with military realities.

Nuckols, briefing Allied newsmen at the UN Truce Camp below Kaesong, observed that Nam's statements during Wednesday's session of two hours and 25 minutes frequently contained "quasi-political overtures." This evoked Joy's reminder that the Kaesong parley is a "military armistice conference."

Not Irrevocable Deadlock
Despite the head-on controversy on the key buffer zone issue, Nuckols declared the conference had not reached an irrevocable deadlock. He pointed to the scheduling of another meeting for Thursday as indicative of some hope that the stalemate can be ended.

The UN communique said the clashing viewpoints of the UN and North Korean-Chinese delegations on the problem of where to draw the demarcation line "remained unchanged" when the 16th session at Kaesong was adjourned Wednesday afternoon.

A 17th meeting was set for 11 o'clock Thursday morning (9 p.m. Wednesday EDT). Thus the conference, while entering a crisis, had not yet reached the point of no return.

At Kaesong, meanwhile, an Australian-born left-wing newspaper correspondent, who reportedly mirrors the official Red viewpoint, said the Communists are willing to compromise on the vital issue of where to demilitarize Korea.

New Madrid, Mo., was settled by French fur traders in 1783.

Odd Fellows Hold Annual Memorial Services Tuesday

Members of the Odd Fellows lodge of New Castle held their annual memorial services Tuesday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall, Ladies of the Rebekahs and Theta-Rho girls assisting.

Program for the occasion opened by the presentation of the flag. The audience repeated the Pledge of Allegiance in unison and sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

Invocation was given by Rev. Everett Spring of the Wesley Methodist church. Mrs. Winifred Young then sang a solo "The Lord's Prayer."

Appropriate remarks were made by Mrs. Marie Roof who in turn introduced the speaker of the evening, C. W. Herman Hess. Mr. Hess gave an interesting and timely memorial address. Mrs. Young sang "God Bless This House."

Impressive memorial exercises were presented by 15 Theta-Rho girls, dressed in flowing white gowns. A huge white cross of wood, flanked by two garden gates and covered with green fern was the setting. The girls carried lit candles and bouquets of gladioli. The candles were placed on the fence giving an effect of a large candelabrum. As each name of a deceased member was called, the bouquets were placed around the foot of the cross.

A short drill was then performed by the girls finishing in a kneeling position. Miss Joan Fisher sang "The Old Rugged Cross." "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again," sung by the audience and the benediction by Rev. Spring closed the services.

Miss Peggie Weir accompanied Mrs. Young, Mrs. Margaret Brooks was accompanist for the group singing and Mrs. Young accompanied Miss Fisher.

William J. Hites, general chairman of the services, presented each participant with a corsage of apple blossoms.

The Theta-Rho girls were under the supervision of Mrs. Marie Roof with Mrs. Mildred Lesnick assisting.

ST. JOHN'S W.M.S. MEMBERS ASSEMBLE

A highly informational discussion was presented by members of the Women's Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church when they assembled for their July meeting in the church, on Tuesday evening.

The theme for study was a "Blueprint for a Christian Community" with the story of the work of John Frederick Oberlin as he devised plans for a Christian community in the villages around the Vosges mountains when he was a missionary pastor during the time of the French Revolution being used.

Throughout the program the members discussed the topics "Education," "Leadership," and "Social and Economic Factors," as pertaining to a Christian community in present day conditions. The program was arranged by the leader, Mrs. Anna Wester, who was prevented from being present because of serious illness in the home. Rev. A. E. Simon assisted with the service.

Plans for work in August include promotion of the magazine, "Lutheran Woman's Work," in charge of Miss Mary Benson and Miss Stella Diefenderfer. The August meeting will be the annual picnic at the home of Miss Mary Riffer, Park avenue. A social period closed the evening.

DE-EMPHASIZED AGAIN

Some "undesirable trends" in intercollegiate athletics have been detected by the National Association of Collegiate Commissioners. The public have noticed "undesirable trends" in collegiate sports, too—particularly the continuing shift of All-Americans from the basketball courts to the courts of the land.

Apparently that isn't what the commissioners mean, though. They want to abolish spring training for football and basketball, curtail all schedules, and keep athletic control in the hands of college authorities, free from "outside pressure."

It has a reminiscent ring. About once a year they give the game back to the boys. Generally the boys don't get back the game until the season's end when the alumni and the men in the box office are through with it for another year.

Right now, college sports—which is to say football and basketball—are going through an emergent period. The great television conflict has been raging on the rim of the gridiron, with the decision going against Pennsylvania's Dr. Stassen and the Saturday stay-at-homes. Fewer games will be on the screen in the autumn, and this is acclaimed a victory for the smaller schools hard hit by TV in the place where it hurts most—to wit, the box office.

This concern for the little fellows in distress is a touching manifestation of fraternalism in a materialistic age. It couldn't be sweeter. That is, unless the higher institutions of learning were suddenly to discover the "undesirable trend" toward the two-platoon system, which demands squads only slightly smaller than the standing army, and stop turning it loose against the undermanned lines and backfields of small colleges next fall.

Otherwise it's good to know they're giving the game back to the boys while the platoonless boys are alive to enjoy it.

HOW MANY MARINES?

How large a Marine Corps? That question, plus the matter of equal representation on the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has touched off another controversy in which formidable congressional forces are aligned against administration policy.

A House bill, approved in committee, would give the Marines a minimum of 300,000 men, with equal representation on the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Senate already has voted a maximum of 400,000, with the Marines to have a "consultant" status with the Joint Chiefs. At present the Marines number 192,000, approximately 10,000 short of authorized strength, and have no policy voice other than the Navy's.

General Cates, Marine Corps commandant, approves this attitude in Congress. It is opposed by Defense Secretary Marshall and by the Joint Chiefs.

If President Truman listens to his professional military advisers—as he is expected to do—he will veto this radical change in Marine Corps status. In that event, its congressional proponents are confident they have the votes to override.

Against the expansion it is argued, among other things, that the Marine Corps would become a "second army"—that it would lose the esprit de corps that has made the Marines a truly elite organization. There is cited General Cates' own statement that, starting in August, the Marines will be forced to resort to the draft to reach even their present authorized strength of 204,300.

But pro-Marine spokesmen recall that in World War II the Marine Corps not only used the draft but it also numbered more than 450,000, with no detectable decline in spirit or effectiveness. Also, they maintain that the Marines are specially trained for highly specialized missions—amphibious and otherwise.

Nothing but these and other highly technical considerations should influence the final decision, whatever it is. This is not a matter for interservice jealousy. Neither should it be affected by the well-deserved emotional appeal of the gallant Marines. Least of all is it an issue upon which armchair strategists are qualified to render a verdict.

SO MANY CHILD VICTIMS

While the rise of 40 per cent in the number of children killed by motor vehicles in the nation during the first six months of the year has not been reflected in the New Castle death rate, it is a startling and tragic warning of the need for greater attention to this terrible problem.

When the experts can say that for every child crippled by polio there are 25 crippled by automobiles, it is time for all of us to take serious notice. The responsibility is not alone that of parents.

No matter what precautions parents take, how stern the warnings or how well trained the children, the later are still only children and unpredictable. It is up to drivers above all to guard against childish lack of responsibility, particularly in school areas or on neighborhood streets.

Twelve thousand head of livestock perished in the Kansas City flood. When nature starts a rollback it leaves no chance for argument.

Many in a crowd in an air-conditioned building can remember when air-conditioning consisted of a palm-leaf fan donated by an undertaker.

Harriman May Score Triumph

A personal triumph with few parallels in modern diplomatic history seems to be shaping up today for W. Averell Harriman, the former banker and railway executive who was sent to Iran in an effort to solve the grave dispute over oil nationalization.

Harriman, former U. S. ambassador to London and now President Truman's adviser and so-called "trouble-shooter," has opened the way for resumption of Anglo-Iranian discussions.

British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison told the House of Commons that he has a negotiating team standing by as the result of a compromise proposal brought by Harriman to London from Tehran.

May Be Unique Victory
If the plan obtained by Harriman from Premier Mohammed Mossadegh bears fruit—if it means resumption of operations at the billion dollar Abadan oil fields—Mr. Truman's representative will have attained a unique victory.

For he was sent on a mission to a country torn by internal strife, harried by Communist infiltration and headed by a premier as temperamental as he is unpredictable.

There are reports that if the compromise plan leads to success, the United States may obtain a valuable foothold in protecting the Iranian petroleum resources which for years have been a goal of Soviet acquisition.

Few Details Known
Few details of the proposal are known thus far.

But Harriman is believed to have sold Mossadegh on the idea of establishing a new international concern to replace the present Anglo-Iranian oil company.

The United States, by one manner or another, would have a major interest in it.

It is not without reason that the foreign secretary's portfolio has often been called the most onerous job in the British or any other government.

DISILLUSIONED
"Yes," he said, "the wife's away. Thought it would be fun to be free with old-time friends to play."

Friends that seldom now I see. None to question: "Why so late?" None to hear me bang the door.

Thought that would be pleasure great; But it isn't any more.

"Thought the boys of old would cheer
Just to learn that I was free,
And for old times sake appear
Glad to sit up late with me.

Yes, one night we had a game.
Some begged off who'd played before.

No, it wasn't quite the same;
And it can't be any more.

"Thought the boys would still be boys.

A BOILED DINNER
Mike likes to sit down to a boiled dinner; a good ham bone and all the trimmings.

A good cook knows how to time the different vegetables. The cabbage adds the flavor and should not be cooked too long. It is valuable for the taste and the vitamins.

They are spoiled or lost by too much cooking.
Cabbage should be cooked for the shortest possible time. Even then cut up for a salad it should be eaten right away. The goodies do not stay very long.

Hummingbirds are most readily attracted to red, orange or purple blossoms.

On the other hand, after a few essential matters of control are once settled, and the child knows without doubt the few things or acts he must avoid and the many more he may be wholly free to have or do, the way is cleared for mutual child-parent enjoyments.

As these enjoyments grow, the need for interference by his parents decreases. Then the child, as he grows older, is bossed less and less and enjoys freedom and companionship with his parents more and more.

Essential Controls
On the other hand, after a few essential matters of control are once settled, and the child knows without doubt the few things or acts he must avoid and the many more he may be wholly free to have or do, the way is cleared for mutual child-parent enjoyments.

As these enjoyments grow, the need for interference by his parents decreases. Then the child, as he grows older, is bossed less and less and enjoys freedom and companionship with his parents more and more.

No Physical Punishment
But a great many parents have supposed that child-rearing authorities say there must be no physical punishment at all even in the pre-school years. Trying conscientiously to accept what they consider the wisdom of experts, these parents have felt helpless; so they shout and jaw. Since shouting and scolding are so rarely condemned by these experts, the shrieking voice and poisonous tongue are freely used as measures of control.

It has always seemed to me that parents should be shown how to limit the use of the voice and tongue to expression of information and to conversation and endearments.

Tonight's the night . . . very important in many lives . . . why tonight's actions and decisions might determine the entire future of some of the men involved. How come all this . . . Tonight at Flaherty Field the American Legion All-Star Junior baseball game will be played.

There will be two five-inning games . . . scheduled to get under way at seven . . . the boys who will be playing will be getting a workout from 4:30 until game time . . . From all over this portion of the nation will come thirty-four young men . . . all top baseball players . . . New Castle will have two representatives . . . John Sansone and Bill Bolk . . . and we are looking forward for these young men . . . Who knows, they might end up to be top players someday in the American or National Leagues.

The reason this All-Star game is so important . . . the major leagues will have on hand their top flight scouts . . . Branch Rickey is very much interested in this year's game . . . looking for new talent . . . "Pie" Traynor is scheduled to be on hand and several other scouts from your favorite ball clubs.

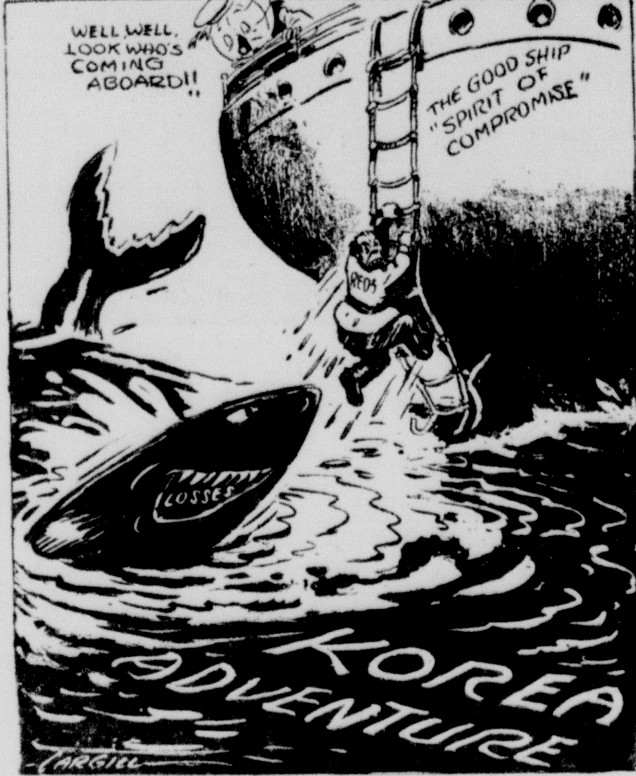

Other sections of the County will be represented . . . Dave Boyd and Todd Wilkin of the New Wilmington team . . . Don Schena and Pete Vessella from the Chewton-Wampum team . . . Bob Foley and Joe Milnes from Ellwood City.

It's an honor in baseball circles to have the All-Star American Legion game played here in New Castle . . . and it's an honor to the local Legion Post to be chosen as the host . . . Joe O'Leary has been making the plans . . . Joe is the chap we all gave the devil to last winter when the streets were in such sad condition . . . Today he says his job arranging for this All-Star game is much more interesting.

And right he is . . . for tonight the future of many a young man will be in balance . . . Should he continue in baseball . . . or has he made himself into a ball player that can be used on a major league team.

Tonight's the night . . . Flaherty Field.

Russian Claims

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

The Russians, bless their dear little hearts, have now claimed that the airplane is an invention that belongs to their country. They say Pooh-ski! Pooh-ski! to the Brothers Wright.

If memory serves, this claim, which was made by the adorable son of Uncle Joe Stalin, was the 133rd made by the Russians. They have claimed that Russians invented the steamboat, the household meat chopper, radar, doorstops, X-ray, the overstuffed chair, the submarine, the bell for cats, electricity, bifocal glasses, the player piano, and television.

None of these bald-faced lies has ever bothered me. What does make me mad, though, is the fact that the Russians have refused to claim the invention of hundreds of things the Western World invented, and aren't particularly proud of.

Why Not Claim These
Wouldn't it be nice if the Russians swore on a stack of vodkas that the smoking fireplace was first created by them?

It would make a lot of us happy to have the Kremlin, in a special Red Day address, tell the world that the nutburger was invented by Ivan Stroganovich, a short-order cook of Stalingrad, and that he had been awarded the Medal of Merit, First Class, with Two Double Crosses.

How grateful we would be if Stalin, standing on the tomb of Lenin, would announce that all the sour notes ever sounded by high school band were first thought up by a Russian. If you have ever listened to a high school band in concert, then you know what I mean. Every "musical" doing his unshaved best. Every parent proud of his offspring, but in his heart of hearts thinking what an awful way to spend an evening.

Let the Russians claim that they are the ones responsible for vacation spots where every minute is "planned" for the joy of the guests. Vacation spots where you want to nap you must play shuffleboard, ride a horse, or learn the rudiments of paddling a canoe.

Claim Love Of Antiques
I would love in my heart if Stalin said that his country, Mother Russia, had given to the world the love for antiques which women, particularly, have . . . The cobble's bench which costs a lot and serves no useful purpose today. The 1856 high-backed chair which, when sitting in it, serves only as a shaky and unsure chiropractor. The what-not that Lafayette what-notted around, but which, in 1951, is just a dust-catcher and an eyesore.

The most practical, the most comfortable furniture in history is being made today. But most women love to hunt for bargains in chairs, sideboards, lowboys, highboys and medium boys, that bear the stamp of some long dead carpenter. The possession of such things increases their pride—false pride, of course.

Why doesn't Russia claim the invention of the quiz show? Or the comic who thinks it is fetching and endearing to put his arm around a guest star and hug and kiss him? Let them take credit for the folding chair, too. And carrots and peas, mixed. And dinner by candlelight when electricity is available. And paper napkins. And picnics on hot days. And pear and cream cheese salad. And processed cheese. And Dover sole that never came any closer to Dover than the Mississippi river.

Please, Kremlin, enlarge your claims.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Joseph Hoag of Vermont was one of the outstanding American Quakers of the nineteenth century, and his son Lindley gave promise of following in his footsteps. Both men attended a Quarterly Meeting, where they sat side by side. Lindley felt he had a message for the meeting, but hesitated to speak because he felt everybody wanted to hear his father preach.

Joseph, however, did not feel he had a message that particular day. Noticing that his son was champing at the bit, he prodded him lustily with his foot, whereupon Lindley jumped up and preached an amazing sermon. But the elders had seen the hint, so at the conclusion of the meeting they criticized the older man for deciding when somebody else should preach. Joseph said quietly, "If you can kick a sermon like that out of any of your boys, you had better do it."

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

May Be Foreign Policy Blunder

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The reaction from capitals throughout the world makes it look as though the hasty deal with Spain may in the longer perspective of history be judged a foreign policy blunder of the first order. Such a judgment would be based not on ideologies or ideals but solely on a realistic estimate of gains and losses measured in terms of strength.

In return for some Spanish geography—ports and, perhaps later, air bases—the United States, acting under the North Atlantic Alliance, will furnish Spain with arms, equipment and training. The strain on American resources, already great, will thus be increased.

Highly Debatable
Whether this adds any strength to the position of the west in the face of the Communist threat is highly debatable. The corruption and chaos behind the facade of the Franco dictatorship raises serious doubts as to the effectiveness of the Spanish army. Aid given to Spain may well be a total waste.

A recent visitor to Spain reports, on the basis of information obtained from highly trained foreign observers, that graft has penetrated deep into the army. Gasoline issued for army maneuvers finds its way into the black market where it is sold for about 50 per cent above the official price for rationed gas. This was reported to be going on more or less openly, the general assumption being that army officers were profiting from this systematized graft.

People who live in glass houses should not throw stones and an American hesitates at the present moment to speak about graft in another country. But no one could seriously contend that anything comparable to this could happen in the United States where the national security was involved.

Estimates At Variance
American military attaches in Spain are reported to have sent to Washington estimates of the strength of the Spanish armed forces almost completely at variance with the estimates of the military observers of other western powers. The American dispatches were far more optimistic than those of the British or the French.

This suggests perhaps the most disquieting aspect of the Spanish deal. It is the possibility that trained observers sent to a foreign country to do objective reporting on the condition of that country may be so influenced by what they believe to be the political atmosphere back home that their reports are colored by what they think will be most welcome reading.

Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada has been the head of a clique that has been largely responsible for forcing a change in American policy toward Spain. McCarran is also head of the so-called Internal Security committee of the Senate before which defenseless government employees have been called for star-chamber interrogation.

Strange Paradox
But there is a strange paradox here. Spain is a Fascist country. The McCarran act, which bars former members of the Communist and Nazi parties, also keeps out Spaniards who have belonged to the Flange, the Fascist party. Freedom of press, speech, religion—every other freedom—is denied in Spain.

Reports written in all honest favoring aid to Spain could at a later date be taken out of the secret files and aired before a congressional committee. In quite another political atmosphere the authors of these reports might be hailed up for favoring Fascism just as another set of authors who were honestly trying to do their duty are now being accused of favoring Communism.

The question of whether ports and bases are sufficient compensation for scarce arms and equipment that may be squandered is complicated by another factor. That is the reaction to the deal outside the United States. It has spread doubt and dismay in Western Europe, thereby weakening the effort to build common strength.

Most Serious Consequence
But the most serious consequence is the further stretching of the American effort, with resulting strain and diffusion. Somewhat the same objection applies to the American determination to bring Greece and Turkey into the Atlantic pact. The tent is being pulled and hauled in so many directions that its value as a cover, a protection, is being correspondingly reduced.

A year ago the abrupt decision in the State department to build a Western Germany army—a decision presented as an accomplished fact to the partners in the pact—was a well-nigh calamitous error. It took the skill and finesse of General Dwight D. Eisenhower to offset at least in part its ill effects.

Franco has agreed to a cabinet shuffle looking toward a restoration of the monarchy, and the Spanish deal may turn out better than the doubters think. But if the pessimists are proved right, then even an Eisenhower will find it hard to stage a rescue operation.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

What is a spinster?
That's what the local council of Nelson, Lancashire, England, would like to find out.

The council built ten apartments available to "spinsters." Sixty women applied. Some were only 25 years of age.

The council turned these down. The apartments were intended for unmarried women over fifty.

The girls looked up the lawbooks, then went back to the council.
"Spinsters," said the books, "are unmarried girls over 18."

Just to satisfy myself, I looked "spinsters" up in my dictionary.
"Spinster. 1. A woman who spins. 2. Formerly, a title given to unmarried women of the gentle classes from a viscount's daughter down."

No, that couldn't be it. But here we have it: "3. Popularly an old maid."

So now for "old maid." This is what is says:
"old maid. 1. An elderly or confirmed spinster. 2. colloq. A fussy, nervous, timid person."

That's just what I thought.
"Old maid" has nothing to do with age. It is a state of mind.

Some people are old maids at eight, others at eighteen, still others at eighty.

An old maid is not necessarily a female.
Men can also be "old maids." And when they are, they are twice as old-maidish as their female counterparts.

The old maid, for instance, will go over her check in a restaurant with a fine-tooth comb.

She (or he) will count her (or his) change two or three times. She (or he) will look at every ten-dollar bill with suspicion to see whether it might not be a counterfeit.

She (or he) will carefully examine the Sunday newspaper she buys to see whether the comic section is left out.

Here is what the Russians think of the "old maid"—particularly the American one.
"This is the home of the little dog Toby, whose mistress, a mad American old maid, left it $75,000.000."

"The dog sleeps on a golden bed; it is attended by a staff of forty-five servants and six lawyers."

"The dog's apartment, a drawing room, a dining room, and a bath room, are done up according to the latest work in fashion."

That is what the Russians told their listeners on the radio last week.

If anybody asked me how to avoid becoming an old maid, I would suggest watching those who are happily married.

How do they act? What do they do? What have THEY got that I haven't got?

But above all, I'd try not to be too "old-maidish."

However, everybody just can't get married. There are not enough men to go round.

So, if you don't succeed, make the best of it.

Anyway, It's a Pretty Hat

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(INS)—"Is that another new hat?" the head of the house asked suspiciously.

"Frankly, yes," I said. "I am trapped like a rat and willing to give myself up. It is a new hat. But I bought it for a noble purpose."

"Is that so? And what noble purpose pushed you right into Sally Victor's and twisted your arm?" "I will thank you not to be funny," I said. "I bought this hat purely as a patriotic duty, to fight communism."

That, said my spouse, is the most fascinating story since Baron Munchausen's demise and now I have heard everything.

To Fight Communism

"Well, I did buy it to fight communism," I insisted. "The whole story was in the papers the other day. This labor leader—I forget his name—came home from Europe and said he would not be at all surprised if all Europe fell a prey to communism because women over there aren't wearing hats."

"Take it easy," said the head of clan Robb. "Take your time; there must be a point in this story some place."

"Well, it's just like I said. This labor leader came home and said that makers all over Europe are out of work because women are either not wearing hats at all or just trying their heads up in scarfs."

"Where does communism enter the case?" Mr. R. inquired.

Will Be Communists

"Why, naturally, if these poor hat makers are out of work indefinitely because of the foolish whims of women, why, communist agents will go to work on them and pretty soon all the hat makers will be communists and maybe that will just be the beginning of the end."

"This is indeed a serious situation," my spouse said. "One fraught with danger to all concerned, including the American husband."

"I'm glad you brought that up, because this labor leader said that if American women didn't wear hats and keep the American millinery industry busy night and day, the communists might take over here, too."

"So you rushed out and did your bit."

"Of course. I knew you wouldn't want people going around saying your wife is a subversive because she doesn't wear a hat," I said.

"Perish forbid!" "And you wouldn't want the neighbors thinking maybe I'm a spy or anyway a communist courier because I tie my head up in a handkerchief?"

"No, no, a thousand times no!" said the master emphatically. "That would probably ruin my credit just as easily as the hat."

Think What Women Are Doing

"But have you thought what you women are probably doing to the scarf and handkerchief business by rejecting them and reviving hats?" he asked. "Have you thought that the scarf and handkerchief business may soon be at a standstill, thousands of men unemployed, their wives hungry."

Belgium To Attend Japanese Peace Treaty Discussion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—The State department on Tuesday reported that Belgium became the second of 49 nations to accept the U. S.-British invitation to attend the Japanese peace treaty discussions in San Francisco in September.

New Zealand previously had accepted. The department was not disturbed by the lack of response and anticipates numerous others during the coming week.

Meanwhile, the department received a note from India commenting on the tentative treaty draft circulated by the U. S. as a basis for discussions.

Department spokesman Michael J. McDermott declined to comment on contents of the note. It is known, however, from foreign dispatches that India proposed three important changes in the Japanese treaty. They are:

1. That the Ryukyu and Bonin islands, including Okinawa, be retained by Japan. The U. S. has fortified Okinawa and is maintaining a trusteeship over the others.
2. That Formosa be given to "China". The India proposal apparently failed to specify whether this meant the Chinese Nationalist government or the Red Peiping regime.
3. That mention of continuing Japanese occupation by foreign troops after the treaty is signed be eliminated from the text.

Woman Seeks Share Of Fields' Estate

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A witness for a nearly blind 71-year-old Chicago woman testified in court Tuesday that the late comedian W. C. Fields, Billy Ward and Billy Williams "were one and the same man."

The testimony was given by William F. O'Connor in the suit of Mrs. Edith Williams, who claims she married Fields in New York in 1893, bore him seven children, and never was divorced from him. She is seeking a widow's share of Fields' $771,000 estate, half of which already has been awarded to Mrs. Harriet Fields, his recognized widow.

She has testified she married Fields when he was using the name of Ward and changed her name to Williams when the bulb-nosed comedian used the latter name. In support of her claim, O'Connor testified today.

"I knew Fields when he was billed as Billy Ward in Philadelphia in 1907 or 1908. He also used the name of Billy Williams."

City Protesting Crossing Change

Montgomery Avenue Change Is Proposed

Spokesmen for the New Castle City Council today, reported that the city solons would continue to oppose the request of the Pennsylvania Railroad which is before the State Public Utilities Commission at this time for the replacement of the watchman at the busy Montgomery Avenue crossing with automatic gates and a flasher system.

Councilman Joseph Medure was instructed to communicate with the State Highway Department to ascertain if that department would make a traffic check there. If the request is not honored, the city will then take the count in their effort to stop the removal of the gates.

In addition to the traffic count it is proposed to take photographs at the crossing as further evidence that the move should not be made. The crossing is located along the site of the proposed new railroad station which the Pennsylvania Railroad proposes to build on Montgomery Avenue to replace the New Castle junction station.

According to Alfred A. Martin, county highway superintendent, he personally is opposed to the change being made and will register his protest along with the city. However, Mr. Martin reported, it would be unwise to take the traffic count on the street at this time until the removal of the Route 18 detour which is expected in a few days.

The department, nevertheless will go along with the city's request to have the count made. It is learned in order that the traffic count might be used as evidence against the removal of the manually operated gates to ones operated automatically.

The following lads are members of the Ward Little League team: Bobbie Mangino, Anthony DeLuca, Bob Cummins, Mike Lombardo, Larry Matteo, Marcheline Conti, Louis Quahiero, Joseph Cangey, Joe West, Anthony Lombardo, Roger Naples, John Luteria, Bill Cummins, Joe DiThomas and Jackie Leone.

City council accepted the resignation and made it effective August 14 when Kendig's appointment is expected.

Howard, 39, said he will step down as Republican candidate in a special November election to fill his 37-year-old brother's unexpired term ending January 1, 1954. Democratic candidate Harry Goodhart also has offered to withdraw in the ex-serviceman's favor.

Washington

Sen. Douglas Is Real Puzzle

Colleagues Wonder Where He'll Land

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Both conservative and liberal colleagues of Senator Paul Douglas (D), Illinois, are eyeing him with mixed puzzlement, wondering in which camp he's going to land.

He came to the Senate after the 1948 elections with a long-time liberal reputation but he's proven himself to be more than a "rubber-stamp" administration supporter.

This stems largely from his frequent siding with economy advocates in the Senate who are predominantly conservative-tempered. As a matter of fact, one colleague recently in a Senate speech labeled the former Chicago university professor a "Monday-Wednesday-Friday liberal".

But economy factions on both sides of the aisle aren't ready to accept him free of reservations on grounds they feel he differs basically with them on the underlying motives for his economy demands.

One explained: "We believe that government is growing too big, reaching into too many things."

"Douglas, however, believes in Big Government; he believes that the government should take money from the people and return it to them in the form of social services of all kinds."

"All that separates him from the other liberals is that he believes it should be done more efficiently—that too much money is wasted between the tax collector and the dispenser of government benefits."

He predicted that Douglas is going to find that big government is expensive and will be disappointed in his economy attempts.

FBI GUARD

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is taking extraordinary precautions regarding its voluntary agents who have infiltrated the Communist party.

Ever since the Justice department dropped its bombshell witnesses at the trial of the top 11 Communist leaders in New York and the congressional hearings in Washington, the Communists have been checking and rechecking on all members of the party.

The Reds have been running their own version of the "loyalty probes" in an effort to find and weed out any possible infiltration.

The FBI worried about Red retaliation on anyone found, has been pulling agents off assignments and giving them special protection.

Most of these agents are volunteers who came to the FBI after they found they were misled by the Reds. The FBI, naturally, feels a great obligation to protect these "volunteers" from any threat of retaliation.

REARMAMENT IF PEACE COMES

Chances are good that Congress will keep the rearmament program rolling even if permanent peace is established in Korea.

No major fight is foreseen in the House and Senate over appropriations for strictly defense purposes or the general military program now underway although Congress may balk at keeping economic controls in effect should the Korean war end.

Administration officials are privately confident that they can prevent any disastrous "let-down" in the defense preparations even though they publicly are persistently warning against such a possibility.

They feel sure that Congress and the general public are now well aware of the weak position this country found itself in in most of the "cold war" developments because of the too-rapid demobilization of our World War II military forces.

The administration spokesmen believe that with that lesson so fresh in the public mind, there is little reason to fear that members of Congress would halt the defense program so long as Russia remains a threat to world peace.

They feel that the fact is being accepted that we will have to arm heavily for years and that the view prevails in virtually all quarters in Washington among Republicans as well as Democrats.

SLANDER PENALTY

VIENNA.—(INS)—Slandering the Soviet Union carries a 10-year prison sentence in Communist Hungary. The recent Hungarian law making it a crime to be "against peace" is being enforced extensively, reports reaching Vienna indicate. The Budapest newspaper Sabad Nep reported that Geza Dolt, a former police officer, was given ten years in prison, "for spreading rumors."

Mrs. Clyde Shaw Discharged From California Hospital

Word has been received by relatives here that Mrs. Clyde Shaw, a former resident, has been discharged from the hospital and is at her home in Downey, Calif.

Mrs. Shaw was seriously injured in an automobile accident which occurred near the Nevada-California state line during the month of May. She and her daughter, Jean, were en route to their home following a vacation spent with relatives in New Castle.

The daughter was killed in the accident and the mother was first taken to a hospital in Nevada and later removed to one nearer her home. She had suffered several fractures and cuts and has the greater part of her body encased in a cast which must be retained for three more months, according to the word sent to Mrs. Paul Shaw, Volant. Her condition is considered hopeful, although still serious.

Due to a more regulated life, animals seem to live longer in captivity than in their wild state.

LONDON, (INS)—Britain's 5,000 veterinary surgeons have been forbidden to have nameplates bigger than 18 inches by ten inches on comply with the order would mean being "struck off" the official list.

Commuter Fare Increased Rates Are Suspended

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A commuter fare increase proposed by seven railroads in Pennsylvania was suspended Tuesday until February 10, 1952, by the Public Utility Commission.

The PUC ordered an investigation into reasonableness of the proposed boost and added that hearings will be fixed at a later date.

The railroads seeking the new rates are the Pennsylvania, Reading, Baltimore and Ohio, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, Lehigh Valley, Central of Pennsylvania, and Erie.

They want these flat increases over present charges regardless of distance.

Weekly tickets, 75 cents; restricted monthly tickets (Monday through Friday, $2.70 and unrestricted monthly tickets, $3.

A formal protest asking the PUC to suspend the boost and hold hearings was filed by the commuters organization of Pennsylvania, of Lancaster, under the names of Paul J. Sauer and Leroy B. Depuy, both of Lancaster.

In addition, 68 formal protests were filed by individuals, most of them PRR riders in the Philadelphia area and one was submitted by the Sunnybrook Civic Association of Oreland.

The carriers contended that since commutation trains must carry equipment and crews to accommodate the morning and evening peak loads created by both short and long haul commuters all riders should pay the same amount of increase regardless of distance traveled.

Farm Roundup

Concentrate On Raising Beef

Livestock Man Gets More Of Retail Value

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Are you the kind of farmer who hates to see the middlemen—the wholesalers, processors and retailers—make more from your crops than you do?

If so, keep away from corn fields and tomato patches, and concentrate on raising beef.

That's the advice implicit in an agricultural department report today which shows that farmers only get 12 percent of the retail value of corn, and 15 percent of the retail price for tomatoes.

For choice grade beef, however, the livestock man keeps 75 percent of the retail value.

But before you take any drastic action, remember that the average farmer, even though he only exists in the mind of government statisticians, still gets about half of the price consumers pay for the food they buy.

Department figures show that farmers received an average of 49 cents of the consumer's food dollar during May.

The other 51 cents went to pay marketing agencies for their services. The month before, the figures were reversed: farmers got 51 cents, marketing got 49.

The farmer's share was largest for meat products—about 67 cents; and smallest for grain products—about 27 cents. But the latter includes bread, flour and several other highly processed products.

The farmer got 46 cents for poultry and eggs, 54 cents for dairy products and 33 cents for fruits and vegetables.

Officials point out, however, that the fruits and vegetables group includes both fresh and processed products.

The importance of the marketing costs for these makes the farmers share of fruits and vegetables much smaller than if fresh produce alone were considered.

Potato growers in six north central states have voted not to continue the federal marketing order for their crop, and the agriculture department announced today that that order will expire in mid-August.

Under the order, grade and size regulations for Irish potatoes were authorized for Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and the commercial producing counties of Iowa and Indiana.

After approval of the allotments to each of the agencies the board of directors will set the goal for the 1951 Community Chest Campaign, which will take place in October.

JWO Paul B. McCandless of New Castle, has been appointed commanding officer of the 28th Infantry Division Band, now stationed at Camp Atterbury, Indiana, as of July 26. He succeeds CWO Robert Di Ventura of Altoona, Pa., who was recently discharged.

Joining the 110th Infantry Regiment of the Pennsylvania National Guard in 1948, Mr. McCandless organized the 110th Regimental Band and directed the 28th Division Glee Club.

A graduate of New Castle high, State Teachers College, Indiana, Pa. and Dana's Conservatory of Music in Ohio, Mr. McCandless was supervisor of music for the Claysville public schools before his entry into federal service on September 5, 1950.

He also was program director of Station WLOA of Braddock and before that was manager of Station WDAO of Indiana, Pa.

Serving eighteen months of his three years of Federal Service during World War II in the European Theatre of Operation, he served first with the 737 Signal Company and later with the 410 Bombardment Group.

Being in charge of a dance band and leader of a Glee Club for these organizations, he was frequently called upon to have his groups perform in Special Service shows for the entertainment of the soldiers.

State Advances In Poultry Rating

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—(INS)—The State Agricultural Department today reported Pennsylvania jumped from third to second in the national poultry rating.

Pennsylvania farmers have raised more than 41 million chickens this year, the department added, putting the state just 1,700,000 behind Iowa which leads the nation.

The department also surveyed the crop and fruit outlook and reported a near-bumper peach crop is promised but that late apples are not sizing well due to hot and dry weather. Sweet corn is growing slowly but sizing well while field corn is filling rapidly.

The wheat harvest is over except in northern counties where it is well advanced, according to the department.

Oats stands are good and buckwheat is growing rapidly.

House Committee Approves Pay Raise For Postal Employees

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A $225,000,000 pay raise for a half million postal employees was voted Tuesday by the House post office and civil service committee.

Individual pay raises would range from 400 to 700 dollars.

There would be a 400 dollar across the board pay raise for all employees receiving an annual wage and a 20 cents an hour boost for hourly workers.

Beginning salaries would be increased from $2,670 to $2,970 by abolition of the first three grades.

In addition, all persons who entered the postal service since July 1, 1945, would be boosted two grades if they have not received such promotions by other acts of Congress. A spokesman explained that all promotions in the postal service are based on length of service rather than ability.

Pasteur and the Mad Wolf

One day in October 1831, a nine year old boy named Louis Pasteur ran from a gathering at the door of a village smithy in Eastern France. A man had just been mangled by a mad wolf, spitting poison foam from the mouth, and the blacksmith was burning out the infected flesh with a hot iron. The incident remained indelibly on Pasteur's mind. For years he experimented to discover an effective treatment for canine madness, called hydrophobia or, more commonly, rabies. Finally in 1885 the Academy of Sciences accepted his treatment of rabies as one of the greatest accomplishments in medical history.

Twenty-Eighth In Final Review At Camp Atterbury

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., Aug. 1.—Motion picture cameras ground away Tuesday as the Twenty-eighth Infantry Division held its final review before leaving for "Operation Southern Pine" at Fort Bragg, S. C.

Major General Albert C. Smith, deputy commander of the Fifth Army, was the reviewing officer. Also on the reviewing stand was Major General Paul W. Kendall, Sixth Corps commander.

Major General Daniel B. Strickler, commander of the Twenty-eighth, commanded the troops in review.

A crew of 25 from a large motion picture company in Hollywood took technical pictures of the review for possible use in a forthcoming picture starring Mario Lanza, opera star.

Motorized troops of the Twenty-eighth will leave August 5 for Fort Bragg. The rest of the group will go by train, starting August 7. The Southern Pine operation, formerly scheduled to continue until September 2, has been cut short one week to permit the Twenty-eighth to return to Atterbury to prepare for its departure for Europe. It will join General Dwight D. Eisenhower's Western defense troops.

Many Activities At YWCA Camp

Camp life and all of its advantages were afforded this year to 19 young girls—through the efforts of the Community Chest.

These young outdoor girls were given an opportunity of sharing with the other 108 girls, the benefits of camping for one week at the YWCA camp at East Brook.

Ordinarily the girls would not have had the opportunity of going to camp, if it had not been for the Community Chest. Identities of these campers were not known by any person at camp, with the exception of the director. Without any discrimination of race, color or creed, the Community Chest supplied the necessary funds to the YWCA to send the 19 girls to camp.

Camp life was enjoyed by 127 girls for six weeks this year. Last week, the third camping period ended. At that time there were 45 girls enrolled, with 11 of them being sent by the Community chest.

Busy Schedule

A more healthful girl, full of fun—is a girl who has enjoyed camp life. Swimming was the favorite sport every day, and the ideal weather that has existed during the past six weeks, made it possible for swimmers to "take a dip" every day. Only one day was recorded as too chilly for a swim. Ingenuity in craftsmanship was displayed by the campers during their handcraft periods. The girls were busy making shell earrings and pins, leather dishes, lanyards, leather belts, painting coaster sets, finger painting pictures, copper foil work and textile painting.

An busy schedule was followed daily by the campers. The girls arose at 7:30 a.m., and the flag raising ceremony was held. After breakfast, each camper completed her caper (morning chore). At 9:20 a.m., the five minute worship service was conducted.

At 9:30 a.m., classes were held for 35 minutes, with four subjects being taught: sports, swimming, handcraft and music. The girls were divided into groups; and the class rotation followed.

Lunch was served at 12:15 p.m. The tasty meals were prepared and served by Marie and Viola Graham. The two cooks worked hard this year in feeding the large group of hungry, energetic children.

After lunch, the girls went to the camp store, library or post office. Rest hour was held from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. An hour of free swimming relaxed the girls at 2:30 p.m., and this was followed by an hour of free time from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Hobby hour was scheduled for 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., daily. One group would center its attention on archery; while the other group a softball team, manged to have a "quick" game. A nature hike was another of the campers' sport. By afternoon, the girls were ready for a hearty supper at 5:45 p.m.

Evening Program

The evening program started at 7 p.m. and continued until 8:30 p.m. Campers prepared for bed at 8:30 p.m. Crackers and milk were enjoyed for a late snack. Lights were out by 9:30 p.m.

The schedule for the campers was a full and busy one. But the girls enjoyed every minute of it. During the evening, refreshments were sent to the camp by some of the parents. Special attractions were featured several times a week, including a banquet every Friday evening. Jack Shepp and his orchestra played for a surprise dance on July 27, at the camp. The girls were older during the last enrollment, and enjoyed immensely dancing to the splendid music. Lunch was served during the intermission. The girls were especially pleased at this very special treat.

Camp life in the good of American way of living is wonderful for growing children. This year, one of the displaced persons, fourteen year old Mary Ann Biro, who came to this country recently from Hungary, was one of the fortunate ones who went to camp. After living abroad, in a country filled with fear and terror, Mary Ann, can certainly realize and be thankful for the advantages of living in this free and wonderful country—America.

Camp Personnel

Mrs. R. G. Eakin was the camp director this year. Together with her counselors and the life guards, activities at camp were designed to have every girl participate. Mrs. Eakin worked hard to make camp life enjoyable. She was capably assisted by Shirley Webber, assistant director; Marguita Fox who taught handcraft; and Catherine Foglia, music instructor. Frances Morrow, sports instructor and Helen McQueen and Carol Foster, swimming pool instructors and life guards.

Camp East Brook is well known in the vicinity and surrounding area. Proof of this is shown in the enrollment of the campers who wanted to attend—many being from out of town.

Campers were present this year from Youngstown, New Castle, Sharon, Greenville, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Ellwood City, New Wilmington, Volant and Poland, O.

College Cadet Is Drowned In Pool In Chester Area

MORTON, Pa., Aug. 1.—(INS)—Peter J. Savoldi, 18-year-old Pennsylvania Military College cadet, drowned yesterday in a swimming pool adjoining a public picnic grove at Morton near Chester.

Savoldi, son of a cannery operator at Sharon, northwest of Pittsburgh, cried weakly for help as he sank in nine feet of water.

Martinez O. Ulpiano, 19-year-old Puerto Rican student, a classmate of Savoldi, raced to his rescue from the beach but was unable to locate the body.

Two other youths located the body after a 15-minute search. Artificial respiration proved fruitless.

Super Service Station For Patrol Bombers Is Re-Commissioned

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A floating "super service-station" for the U. S. Navy's big patrol bombers—the 9106-1 on tender "Currituck"—was re-commissioned today at the Philadelphia naval base.

The 540-foot vessel, built in 1943, performs many of the functions of a complete aircraft carrier, except that planes are launched and recovered from the surrounding water instead of from a flight deck.

The Currituck's new commanding officer is Capt. John H. McElroy of Cuba, Ala., former chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics Photographic division.

A veteran of World War II combat, the ship will be able to repair and service as many as 18 long-range aircraft.

The Currituck was sponsored by Mrs. Milo S. Draemel, wife of Rear Admiral M. S. Draemel, former Pennsylvania state secretary of forests and waters.

Narcotics Squad Arrests Six Persons In New York Roundup

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(INS)—An ex-convict who allegedly did a $42,000 weekly business selling narcotics in New York and five other cities was arrested last night in a roundup by rookie members of the Narcotics Squad.

Police said that Peter Galente's operations extended to Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis. They added that Galente, who had served 11 years in Sing Sing for armed robbery, bought heroin from Italy at $12,500 for 33 ounces and sold it for $600 an ounce.

Also arrested was Alfred (Al the Cop) Vomerio who 25 years ago had tried three times to join the police force but was unable to pass the examination. Police described him as a wholesaler in the heroin racket.

A third man arrested was Ben Sekzer, described as a peddler for Galente.

Truman Asks 273 Million Dollars For A-Bomb Research

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—President Truman on Tuesday asked Congress for an additional appropriation of 273 million for atomic bomb research.

The White House said the additional funds are required because of higher costs and work on new experimental projects and new plant requirements.

The sum was expected to be used partially in connection with the hydrogen bomb development.

Hit-Run Driver Gets One Year

Dorsey Kline
Killed May 21

William Collins, 322 Neshannock avenue, was sentenced to one year in the Allegheny County Workhouse, Tuesday, for the death of Dorsey Kline.

Collins, a young man whose license had been suspended, hit Mr. Kline at the corner of East Washington and Vogan streets May 21 and fled the scene of the accident. A day or two later, Detective Sigler and Boyle of the city police force noticed a car on Washington street that appeared to have had an accident. They followed the car to where it was parked and examined it.

On the fender they found some human hair and blood stains and then questioned Collins. He denied the accident but later confessed. He said he had driven to the vicinity of the police station three times but could not find the courage to give himself up.

In sentencing Collins to pay the costs, a fine of one dollar and a year in the workhouse Judge Lamoree said, "I want to commend the New Castle police officers who did this excellent piece of work in ferreting out the man responsible for the accident."

Collins was charged with failure to stop, failure to disclose identity, failure to assist at an accident and driving while his license was suspended.

His sentence starts May 25 the day he went to the county jail.

WILL INVESTIGATE

Assistant District Attorney John S. Powers said Tuesday he would investigate the improper use of Democratic sample ballots when the transcription of testimony before Judge Brahm was received. District Attorney Sherman K. Levine is in Florida at the present time vacationing but his work is being carried on by Mr. Powers.

NEED A PRIMER

Every election in Lawrence county brings out the fact that all too many election board officials are not aware of their entire responsibilities and duties. It has been suggested that the county Board of Elections would do well to have prepared a primer of election board rules and send a copy of it to each election board along with the supplies.

Anthony Eden On Way To Denver

QUEBEC CITY, Que., Aug. 1.—(INS)—Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the British Conservatives party, believes there is nothing wrong with establishment of American bases in Spain, provided it does not bring Spain into the North Atlantic pact.

Eden arrived in Quebec en route to speak in a World Affairs Institute at the University of Denver on August 6. He said that on the basis of a private treaty between Spain and the U. S. it is a "worthwhile arrangement."

Said Eden: "I see no opposition to the installation of American bases in Spain—naval or air—provided the pact between the two countries does not bring about participation of Spain in the North Atlantic pact. I believe this to be a separate thing and it will be better if kept that way."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Sportsmanship—Eight-Year-Old Level

Tim Ryan Sr. was upset. As a high school and college athlete, he had been outstanding in sportsmanship. The fact was even mentioned in the college yearbook. And yet, just the day before, he had seen eight-year-old Tim Jr. lose his temper in no uncertain way when he struck out in the neighborhood ball game. Later, he learned that Junior's behavior was pretty common in the younger set. He had made up his mind to do something drastic. But, fortunately, he expressed his concern to Tim's club leader at the "Y."

"I'd take it easy, if I were you, Mr. Ryan," he said. "It takes time to build sportsmanship in youngsters. Your boy and the others are awfully interested in doing their best. It upsets them when they make mistakes or don't show up too well. That's natural. And they express the way they feel. That natural, too."

"You can count on Timmy coming through all right. When he has a little more confidence in himself and his ability, it will be a lot easier to be a good sport. And if you jump on him now, the confidence is going to take a lot longer in developing."

Twenty-Eighth In Final Review At Camp Atterbury

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., Aug. 1.—Motion picture cameras ground away Tuesday as the Twenty-eighth Infantry Division held its final review before leaving for "Operation Southern Pine" at Fort Bragg, S. C.

Major General Albert C. Smith, deputy commander of the Fifth Army, was the reviewing officer. Also on the reviewing stand was Major General Paul W. Kendall, Sixth Corps commander.

Major General Daniel B. Strickler, commander of the Twenty-eighth, commanded the troops in review.

A crew of 25 from a large motion picture company in Hollywood took technical pictures of the review for possible use in a forthcoming picture starring Mario Lanza, opera star.

Motivated troops of the Twenty-eighth will leave August 5 for Fort Bragg. The rest of the group will go by train, starting August 7.

The Southern Pine operation, formerly scheduled to continue until September 2, has been cut short one week to permit the Twenty-eighth to return to Atterbury to prepare for its departure for Europe. It will join General Dwight D. Eisenhower's Western defense troops.

Camp life and all of its advantages were afforded this year to 19 young girls—through the efforts of the Community Chest.

These young outdoor girls were given an opportunity of sharing with the other 108 girls, the benefits of camping for one week at the YWCA camp at East Brook.

Ordinarily the girls would not have had the opportunity of going to camp, if it had not been for the Community Chest. Identities of these campers were not known by any person at camp, with the exception of the director. Without any discrimination of race, color or creed the Community Chest supplied the necessary funds to the YWCA to send the 19 girls to camp.

Camp life was enjoyed by 127 girls for six weeks this year. Last week, the third camping period ended. At that time there were 45 girls enrolled, with 11 of them being sent by the Community Chest.

Busy Schedule
A more healthful girl, full of fun—is a girl who has enjoyed camp life. Swimming was the favorite sport every day, and the ideal weather that has existed during the past six weeks, made it possible for swimmers to "take a dip" every day. Only one day was recorded as too chilly for a swim. Ingenuity in craftsmanship was displayed by the campers during their handicraft periods. The girls were busy making shell earrings and pins, relish dishes, lanyards, leather belts, painting coaster sets, finger painting pictures, copper foil work and textile painting.

An busy schedule was followed daily by the campers. The girls arose at 7:30 a.m., and the flag raising ceremony was held. After breakfast, each camper completed her caper (morning chore). At 9:20 a.m., the five minute worship service was conducted.

At 9:30 a.m., classes were held for 35 minutes, with four subjects being taught: sports, swimming, handicraft and music. The girls were divided into groups; and the class rotation followed.

Lunch was served at 12:15 p.m. The tasty meals were prepared and served by Marie and Viola Graham. The two cooks worked hard this year in feeding the large

Super Service Station For Patrol Bombers Is Re-Commissioned

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A floating "super service-station" for the U. S. Navy's big patrol bombers—the 9106-ton tender "Currituck"—was re-commissioned today at the Philadelphia naval base.

The 540-foot vessel, built in 1943, performs many of the functions of a complete aircraft carrier, except that planes are launched and recovered from the surrounding water instead of from a flight deck.

The Currituck's new commanding officer is Capt. John H. McElroy of Cuba, Ala., former chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics Photographic Division.

A veteran of World War II combat, the ship will be able to repair and service as many as 18 long-range aircraft.

The Currituck was sponsored by Mrs. Milo S. Draemel, wife of Rear Admiral M. S. Draemel, former Pennsylvania state secretary of forests and waters.

Narcotics Squad Arrests Six Persons In New York Roundup

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(INS)—An ex-convict who allegedly did a $42,000 weekly business selling narcotics in New York and five other cities was arrested last night in a roundup by rookie members of the Narcotics Squad.

Police said that Peter Galente's operations extended to Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis. They added that Galente, who had served 11 years in Sing Sing for armed robbery, bought heroin from Italy at $12,500 for 33 ounces and sold it for $600 an ounce.

Also arrested was Alfred (Al the Cop) Vornero who 25 years ago had tried three times to join the police force but was unable to pass the examination. Police described him as a wholesaler in the heroin racket.

A third man arrested was Ben Sekzer, described as a peddler for Galente.

Truman Asks 273 Million Dollars For A-Bomb Research

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—President Truman on Tuesday asked Congress for an additional appropriation of 273 million for atomic bomb research.

The White House said the additional funds are required because of higher costs and work on new experimental projects and new plant requirements.

The sum was expected to be used partially in connection with the hydrogen bomb development.

Hit-Run Driver Gets One Year

Dorsey Kline Killed May 21

William Collins, 322 Neshannock avenue, was sentenced to one year in the Allegheny County Workhouse, Tuesday, for the death of Dorsey Kline.

Collins, a young man whose license had been suspended, hit Mr. Kline at the corner of East Washington and Vogan streets May 21 and fled the scene of the accident. A day or two later, Detectives Sigler and Boyle of the city police force noticed a car on Washington street that appeared to have had an accident. They followed the car to where it was parked and examined it.

On the fender they found some human hair and blood stains and then questioned Collins. He denied the accident but later confessed. He said he had driven to the vicinity of the police station three times but could not find the courage to give himself up.

In sentencing Collins to pay the costs, a fine of one dollar and a year in the workhouse Judge Lamoree said, "I want to commend the New Castle police officers who did this excellent piece of work in ferreting out the man responsible for the accident."

Collins was charged with failure to stop, failure to disclose identity, failure to assist at an accident and driving while his license was suspended.

His sentence starts May 25 the day he went to the county jail.

NEED A PRIMER

Every election in Lawrence county brings out the fact that all too many election board officials are not aware of their entire responsibilities and duties. It has been suggested that the county Board of Elections would do well to have prepared a primer of election board rules and send a copy of it to each election board along with the supplies.

Anthony Eden On Way To Denver

QUEBEC CITY, Que., Aug. 1.—(INS)—Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the British Conservatives party, believes there is nothing wrong with establishment of American bases in Spain, provided it does not bring Spain into the North Atlantic pact.

Eden arrived in Quebec en route to speak in a World Affairs Institute at the University of Denver on August 6. He said that on the basis of a private treaty between Spain and the U. S. it is a "worthwhile arrangement."

Said Eden: "I see no opposition to the installation of American bases in Spain—naval or air—provided the pact between the two countries does not bring about participation of Spain in the North Atlantic pact. I believe this to be a separate thing and it will be better if kept that way."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Sportsmanship—Eight-Year-Old Level

Tim Ryan Sr. was upset. As a high school and college athlete, he had been outstanding in sportsmanship. The fact was even mentioned in the college yearbook. And yet, just the day before, he had seen eight-year-old Tim Jr. lose his temper in no uncertain way when he struck out in the neighborhood ball game. Later, he learned that Junior's behavior was pretty common in the younger set. He had made up his mind to do something drastic. But, fortunately, he expressed his concern to Tim's club leader at the "Y."

"I'd take it easy, if I were you, Mr. Ryan," he said. "It takes time to build sportsmanship in youngsters. Your boy and the others are awfully interested in doing their best. It upsets them when they make mistakes or don't show up too well. That's natural. And they express the way they feel. That natural, too.

"You can count on Timmy coming through all right. When he has a little more confidence in himself and his ability, it will be a lot easier to be a good sport. And if you jump on him now, the confidence is going to take a lot longer in developing."

Reel Star Plays

Real Role On Paper

LOS ANGELES, (INS)—An unusual byline recently surprised habitual readers of The Los Angeles Herald-Express. Attached to a story about two children who had swallowed a gallon of paint thinner was the byline of Kirk Douglas. Readers immediately wondered if this could possibly be the movie star and what would be the doing writing news stories?

The paper explained that, Douglas, assigned the leading role in Paramount's "Ace In the Hole," a tough, realistic newspaper yarn, was a firm believer in finding out about things at first hand. The movie star was determined to learn just what it is like to be a reporter.

So hat in hand, he visited Los Angeles' nationally-known city editor Agness Underwood, and stated his case. Underwood immediately put Kirk to work on the staff of the Herald-Express as a "general assignment" reporter. This was not a play-acting job.

For one solid month Kirk with a special Newspaper Guild card, covered accidents, fires, police news and even city hall beat.

When his term was up he was the first to admit that he was still an amateur, but he was sure that he could give authenticity to his role of a newspaperman on the skids, who comes across with the biggest story of his life.

Police Of Pennsylvania Are Facing Biggest Job

By FRANK SWEENEY
President-Elect, Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association
(Written Especially for I. N. S.)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—Pennsylvania police are today facing one of the biggest jobs in their history.

Our two main headaches are public apathy toward civil defense and the mushrooming increase of teen-age "hot-rodgers".

To face these jobs, and others, most police departments in the commonwealth are operating with virtually the same size staffs they had 10 or even 15 years ago.

There is not a police officer at our convention who has not said he is worried about the hot-rodgers, young people who speed recklessly in automobiles.

Little We Can Do

These thrill-happy youngsters are out killing themselves on our highways every night—and there is little we can do to stop them.

The average police car is not built to do 100, or 115 miles per hour. Unless the hot-rodgers are nabbed when they are getting started, we are usually out of luck.

As soon as they spot a police car they turn off their lights and speed off into the night. We don't see the car again until we go out with the ambulance.

The fault lies with the parents of these kids. There is not a boy in the world who needs a car that can go 120 miles per hour. When parents see a boy buy an old junker and soup it up with overhead valves and a double exhaust, they ought to know what he is doing.

Game Called "Chicken"

A typical hot-rod game is the one called "chicken" played with two cars at speeds between 95 and 110 miles per hour. The teenagers—girls included—get into cars at opposite ends of a stretch of highway and start driving toward each other. They steer the jalopies toward a head-on collision and step on the accelerator.

The first driver to swerve his car is called "chicken" and is declared the loser—unless something goes wrong and all the "players" are killed.

The answer is in aroused interest at home and education in our schools. Our association is asking the Pennsylvania legislature to raise the driving age from 16 to 18. If this fails, we feel that parents should be made responsible for all accidents caused by under-18 drivers.

Driver Safety Courses

We are also seeking to have driver safety courses taught in the first or second year of all Pennsylvania high schools. Most areas now teach such courses in the senior year or high school—when it comes too late for many.

Civil defense is another new problem confronting law enforcement officials throughout the state. We call it the "Korean spasms"—every time we win a battle in Korea, another half-dozen of our wardens quit. On many occasions the instructors have outnumbered students at defense emergency classes.

Unless we can get our people to see that the menace of enemy air attacks is just as important as that of Frank Costello, we are going to find our selves in a state of unprepared panic if war ever comes.

Better Equipped

In the policeman's main job—

the battle against crime, Pennsylvania police are now better equipped than ever before to apprehend the criminal.

The day of the small-town cop who had to work on his own is over. Today every officer in Pennsylvania is in touch with state and big-city bureaus, and with the FBI itself.

By working through our association, Pennsylvania police keep in touch with developments in every part of the state and nation.

A policeman can now, for example, pick up a pack of matches at the scene of a crime and send it off to the FBI in Washington for a report. He will get on answer within 24 hours telling him all about the owner—even to whether he is right or left-handed!

And the people are more interested in crime today than they have been since the sensational era of John Dillinger, Baby-Face Nelson, and Pretty-Boy Floyd.

If they remain interested now that the television hearings are over, I think we will be a long way toward having our problems licked.

Loyalty Oath Bill Headed For Public Airing

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—(INS)—An amended loyalty oath bill was headed today for a public airing before it goes to the House for final vote.

Rep. Ivan C. Watkins (R) Schuylkill, chairman of the house state government committee, said he will try to set the hearing for the near future.

The hotly-disputed bill was reported to the floor yesterday with an amendment which would grant the right of appeal for any elected official, state government worker or employee of a state-aided institution who has been branded subversive for refusing to swear an oath of allegiance.

College faculties would be exempted from the oath but officials would be required to file annual reports on steps taken to eliminate any subversives.

The hearing would have to be held within 30 days with a decision rendered within 60 days after the hearing.

The effective date also was moved back from September 1 to November 1 because the bill might not get through the general assembly in time.

Famed Publisher Is Found Dead In Swimming Pool

GIRARD, Kas., Aug. 1.—(INS)—E. Haldeman-Julius, famed publisher of the popular five-cent "Little Blue Books," was found dead last night in the swimming pool of his Girard home.

His wife, Sue, discovered the body on her return from a shopping trip and Coroner W. G. Rinehart ordered an autopsy to determine whether death was the result of drowning or a heart attack.

The 62-year-old publisher was free on $2,000 bond pending appeal of his six-months prison sentence and a $12,500 fine imposed June 20 on conviction of income tax evasion.

However Mrs. Haldeman-Julius said her husband apparently had not been worried by the conviction and that he was confident of a reversal in the higher courts.

Many Students Fail Aptitude Test

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Selective Service reported today that 38 per cent of the college students who took the first draft aptitude test flunked it.

But 40 per cent of the poorer students who would not have rated consideration for draft deferment on the basis of their showing in the classroom got by the tests with scores of 70 or better.

Local draft boards have been asked to give a score of 70 or better the same consideration, as a basis for deferment, as is given to a student ranking in the top half of the freshman class, top two-thirds of the sophomore class, or three-quarters of the junior class.

Says Women Will Look Like Guitars In Fall Fashions

By NORA MARTIN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, August 1.—(INS)—Paris couturier Jacques Heim indicated today that women will look like guitars if they string along with fall fashion ideas.

The designer showed a collection of frocks with "guitar-shaped curves"—the fancy, fifty-one version of the hourglass silhouette.

Especially featured in the fall dresses were mandolin sleeves which belled out above and below the elbow, and skirts which hugged close at mid-calf length but widened over the stomach by means of tucks and drapes at the waistline.

Heim's new cocktail styles were reminiscent of 1918 tea dresses. They were slim, frequently fashioned of velvet and edged with fur.

One cocktail suit was made entirely of light gray rabbit fur. And another two-piece cocktail costume was cut of purple velvet, with the collar and jacket lining made of white feathers.

Blame Heat For Shattering Door

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—(INS)—The heat wave was blamed for shattering a glass door in a Pittsburgh dress shop yesterday.

Police said gas was used as an insulator between two heavy sheets of glass and probably expanded because of the heat, breaking both panes.

Damage was estimated at $250.

Baby Chokes To Death On Piece Of Wiener

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—(INS)—What began as a happy shopping trip for a Pittsburgh father ended in tragedy yesterday when his baby son died after choking on a piece of wiener skin.

The baby, 20-month-old Walter Helsinki, died shortly after he was taken to Allegheny General Hospital.

Walter Helsinki Sr. took his son downtown with him and bought a hot dog for a snack. He gave the child a bite of the bun after he thought the meat was removed.

However, a piece of wiener remained and when the baby choked, the skin lodge in the trachea.

Helsinki was treated for shock when he broke down.

Suspect Gasoline Fumes Cause Of Death Of Youngster

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 1.—(INS)—Four-year-old Clair David Ewing liked the smell of gasoline. Once, his father, Norman G. Ewing, found him sniffing the fumes from a truck fuel tank on his Derry township farm. Clair was cautioned and the family tried to keep the fluid in out of the way places.

Last night his father found Clair's lifeless body in a shed slumped over a can of gasoline in which paint brushes were soaking.

Leaves For Britain To Find Beneficiaries Of Pastor's Estate

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Olin W. Evans, chief clerk of Luzerne county, Pa., leaves today with his wife on the Mauretania to find the British beneficiaries of the $60,000 or more left by the Rev. John Daniel Thomas, of Warrior Run, Pa.

Evans, a close friend, is executor of the estate of the little Welsh coal-county pastor, who lived on a retirement pension of $60 a month and was thought to be virtually penniless. He is under court order to find some dozen sisters, nephews and nieces in Wales and England.

Only Evans knew that the little minister's dabbling in stocks, begun after the crash in 1929, had resulted in his amassing a small fortune. Evans knew, too, of the many food packages to the poor in Britain and Wales that the Rev. Thomas had sent throughout the war and thereafter.

The funeral of the cloth, who died last March at the age of 79 in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital, spent his early ministry in his native Llandovery, Wales. He came to this country about 40 years ago, and never earned more than $200 a month, Evans said. But the Thomas investments in blue chip stocks, and his belief in the old proverb about "casting bread upon the waters," will undoubtedly appeal to his relatives abroad, the executor thought.

Not In Philadelphia For Years But Gets Traffic Summons

Apparently there are some traffic "cops" in Philadelphia whose vision is in need of correcting.

This is judged from the report of W. R. Emery, U. S. route 422, who has received from Philadelphia two summons from Philadelphia traffic court.

One charges failure to stop on a police signal July 9 and the other is for "overtaking a vehicle improperly."

The fine and costs in the communication in each case is $12.78.

Mr. Emery says he has not been in Philadelphia "since he marched there after World War I."

Apparently the "cop" got the wrong license number.

A.W.O.L. Soldier Is Held On Charge Of Shooting Father

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A 52-year-old civil service engineer was shot to death in Chicago today when he attempted to turn his son over to military police for going A.W.O.L. from the army.

Police are holding Gerald Riordan, 18, who they said confessed shooting his father, Andrew J. Riordan. Officers seized the youth at the family home.

Earlier, police found Riordan's body with a bullet wound in his head inside the Hyde Park police station garage. Riordan had driven his 1942 sedan into the garage and died, slumped over the steering wheel.

"Didn't Mean To Kill Him" Police said young Gerald told them Riordan was taking him to the police station building. He said he had the pistol in his pocket and tried to conceal it in the auto before going into the station. He told officers his father saw it and a struggle followed. The youth said the automatic went off. He said:

"I didn't mean to kill him." Station officers said the noise of street traffic and a nearby railroad apparently prevented them from hearing the shot.

Police said the youth was absent without leave from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., since about July 25. He returned to his family and they turned him over to Fifth Army MPs to return to camp.

But he said his father discovered him on a street corner today. Riordan put the boy in his car and headed for the MP station. Besides Gerald, Riordan is survived by his widow, a daughter and another son.

Indiana Legion Demands Release Of William Oatis

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 1.—(INS)—A resolution demanding the release of William Oatis, Associated Press correspondent imprisoned in Czechoslovakia on charges of espionage, was adopted today by the Indiana Department of the American Legion.

The resolution urged that the state department make an "unconditional demand" for Oatis' release and, if the Czech government refuses, called for the confiscation of all Czechoslovakian assets in the United States.

Other U. S. actions suggested in the resolution in the event the Czechs fail to release Oatis are to close all Czechoslovakian embassies and consulates and to banish all their officials from this country, place an embargo on all Czech goods and stop American aid to all nations that refuse to take similar embargo action.

Police said that Alcide Martin admitted slaying to death his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Antheim Allen, 67 and 74, respectively, and Nelson Cusson.

Martin, who was on leave before going overseas with the Royal 22nd Regiment, told police the slayings occurred during an argument in the Allens' home at Anderson Corner, 55 miles from Montreal.

State Department Deals Man-To-Man

READING, Pa., (INS)—So-called kid-glove diplomacy—the kind where U. S. Ambassadors went to Europe in striped trousers and top hats seems to be fast disappearing.

It is being replaced by what a State Department official calls a man-to-man policy.

The State Department official is Henry W. Ablanap, a member of the executive staff of the Office of International Information Education Program.

That organization is charged with carrying on the world's largest, most complex and truthful propaganda system.

"It is an offensive aimed at the minds of men to inspire them to a knowledge and understanding of American democracy," Ablanap said.

The organization also aims to inform the American public of the nation's war effort and accomplishments and to keep up public morale.

The organization also operates to combat the Russian "big lie."

To do this, the program uses the Voice of America which broadcasts all over the world including behind the Iron Curtain.

The Russians, of course, try to jam these broadcasts, but Ablanap claims the cost to Moscow for this jamming is greater than the cost of operating the Voice of America.

The organization also carries out an extensive press, publication, motion picture and personal contact program.

One magazine, "America" is sold in Russia at the rate of more than 24,000 copies each month.

Judges Salaries May Be Raised

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—(INS)—Salaries of Pennsylvania judges would be increased by 15 per cent but not more than $2500 a year under legislation before the Senate today.

If approved, the bill would raise salaries for the state supreme court justices from $23,000 to $25,500 or $500 more than paid the governor.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. John R. Meade (R) Philadelphia, would affect supreme and superior court justices, common pleas and orphans' court judges and jurists assigned to the Philadelphia courts and the Allegheny county county court.

PLANT MERGER

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Aug. 1.—(INS)—The merger of Dunn Steel Products Company of Plymouth, Mich., with the Townsend Company of New Brighton became effective today following a special meeting of stockholders from both firms.

Townsend will operate Dunn Steel as a separate division, continuing the manufacture of its special line of cold headed parts, primarily for the automotive industry.

Townsend is a producer of rivets, special nails, locknuts and wire products.

Bicycle Safety Campaign Being Planned In State

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—(INS)—An intensive bicycle safety campaign will be pushed this month by the governor's highway safety committee with the cooperation of automobile clubs and Pennsylvania newspapers.

"Accidents involving motor vehicles and bicycles last year cost the lives of a score of boys and girls in our state and crippled and injured sixty times that many," reported revenue secretary Otto F. Messner.

"Children must be made to realize that their bicycles are not playthings. In the eyes of the law they are vehicles—means of transportation—and their operation is subject to many of the same rules as apply to automobiles and trucks."

"Bicycles must be properly lighted front and rear, and must keep to the right side of the road," said Messner. "Their riders must observe the same signs, signals and traffic markings as the motorist. They should always indicate a stop or a change of direction by a suitable hand signal."

The Kiwanis and Lions clubs, the Fraternal Order of Police and the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police association will participate in the safety campaign.

a good bath, a roof that doesn't leak, electric lights—are all hard to do without. But a man can get used to not having the comforts much quicker than he can get used to losing his freedom. It does seem awful that people don't seem to appreciate what they've got until it's been taken away from them—especially the freedom we Americans are used to.

Letter from a soldier

(From letter written by a lieutenant at U. S. Artillery in Korea)

All of us must guard this right dearly. Because there are people who have been saying for years that the government ought to own and run things permanently. "Take over this business, or that industry or service," they say. Now that we're rearming, these same people think they have a new excuse for letting the government "take things over."

There's only one name for this: it's socialism. And most Americans don't want it. For socialism takes away your rights, freedoms and opportunities, not just for a while—but forever.

Americans don't mind sacrifices when their liberty is at stake. For soldier and civilian alike, "no price is too great—except freedom."

New Castle Is Host Tonight For American Legion All-Star Game

Players From 17 Communities To Take Part In Annual Affair

New Castle will be host for the first time tonight at the annual district American Legion Junior All-Star baseball game to be held at Flaherty Field.

The cream of the crop of young district baseball talent will be on hand to strive for positions on the All-Western Pennsylvania team and to show their stuff before a number of major league scouts. There will be in reality not one, but two games, consisting of five innings each tonight, in order that all of the 34 boys present will get an opportunity to play.

The first of the two games will get under way at 7 o'clock with Mayor John F. Haven slated to throw the first pitch and local America Legion Commander Manning Weller attempting to catch it.

Each of the 17 Legion teams in the area is sending two boys to appear in the contests. All boys must be either 17 or 18 years old. Five boys from tonight's games will be selected to play in the All-Western Pennsylvania All-Star game at Forbes Field, Tuesday, August 7.

Community Support

The Perry S. Gaston American Legion post is seeking the support of the entire community in its baseball program and is hoping for a good crowd tonight.

Eight Lawrence county boys will be among the 34 to take part in the games. They are John Sansone, Bill Boak, Dave Boyd, Todd Wilkin, Don Schena, Pete Vessella, Bob Foley and Joe Miller. Teams sending representatives here from outside the county are Ford City, Worthington, Brookville, Ambbridge, Midland, Beaver, Rochester, Beaver Falls, Monaca, Mercer, Farrell, West Middlesex and Sharon.

The players will begin their workouts at 4:30 under the scrutiny of the major league scouts.

Eastern Drivers Will Seek Honors At Canfield Track

CANFIELD, Ohio, August 1.—The quarter mile speedway at the Canfield fairgrounds has undergone a complete rejuvenation after the annual horse show and the heavy rain of the past weekend, and will be in perfect condition for the action of the stock car boys tonight.

The special event program will find many eastern drivers in the lineup as they invade this territory in their quest for points that will raise them higher on the national points standing list. They are invading this territory in an effort to overhaul the leader, Mike Klapak of Warren.

The entry list is exceptionally large for tonight's card and some of the newer drivers include, Mike Smith of Niles, Carl Wikerson, Youngstown; Art Lenny, Warren; Bob James, Cuyahoga Falls; Bob Sackett, Leavittsburg; Bud Clark, Ellwood City; Max Bump, Cortland; and Russ Hepler, Clarion, Pa. Once these boys become acquainted with the racing strip at Canfield, it is expected that they will score many victories.

John Lawther, former Penn State basketball coach, is currently in Mexico on a six-months teaching-coaching assignment.

Battle For Playoff Posts Continues In North County

The battle for playoff positions in the North County Baseball League continues tonight with three games on the schedule.

St. Lucy will be at East Brook, Pukaski at Eden-Hilliers and New Wilmington at Volant in very important league contests.

East Brook clinched the league pennant and New Wilmington, though losing, clinched a playoff berth as a result of Monday night's action. The other four teams, however, are still battling for the remaining two positions.

There is only one game separating the current third and sixth place occupants and even the losers tonight will still be in the running.

A league meeting will be held at the home of League President Howard Rodgers following the night's games to discuss plans for the playoffs.

Last regular season playing date is Monday, August 6.

ST. LUCY WINS
St. Lucy defeated New Wilmington 7-6 Tuesday evening in eight innings in the playoff of a postponed North County League game at Hillsville.

Spinos was the winning pitcher, Eagleson the loser. Livorine and DeRosa had three hits apiece for the winners. George Ratvasky had two hits for New Wilmington. Penwell had a home run for St. Lucy.

WINS PROTEST
League officials upheld a protest of East Brook concerning the playing of a game with Volant on July 25 at East Brook, which was won by Volant 6-5, at a special meeting last night at the YMCA.

According to reports of the game, Wallas, the first batter for East Brook in the third inning of that game dribbled a ground ball down the third base line.

Several players moved toward the ball and the Volant pitcher threw his glove at the ball, hitting it while it was still in motion. The umpire called it a foul ball, and East Brook protested, declaring that the batter should be awarded a three base hit.

League officials upheld East Brook's protest and declared that the game should be replayed, picking up at the point in question, with Wallas on third base. Volant was leading at the time 4-0. The game will be played Tuesday, August 7.

Another protest, concerning the forfeiting of a game to the Eden-Hilliers by Volant, was scheduled to be heard but was dropped by the Volant team.

NORTH COUNTY SHORTS
With only three more games to go it looks like a battle between Bob Smith of East Brook and Ivan Young of Volant for the batting title. Young at 388 leads Smith by 602. Other batters that still have a chance, and will probably have at least 100 times at bat are Lyman Ringblom, Don Meyers and George Ratvasky of New Wilmington and Bob Sisket of East Brook.

Horkey of Volant is hitting at a .443 pace but has not appeared in enough contests to be considered among the leaders.

Ne-Ca-Hi Candidates To Report August 17

All boys trying out for New Castle Senior High school football team are asked to report to Taggart stadium Friday, August 17, at 7 o'clock, it is announced by faculty manager Robert Mills.

Coach P. H. Bridenbaugh stresses the importance of the players getting into condition before that time.

Cleveland Indians Hold Second Place

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(U.S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Monotony is the way the Brooklyn Dodgers keep climbing up the rest of the National League.

It's just one win after another for the Dodgers as they zoom toward the flag, virtually unopposed. It is even reaching the stage where, folks ask for the score instead of "who won?" when the Bums play. And you can hardly blame them. The score last night was 8 to 3, guess who, the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Giants-Phillies Win
The Dodger lead stayed at 9½ games as their closest rivals, the New York Giants, managed to squeeze by the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3.

The Philadelphia Phillies came up with six runs in the ninth inning—three on a homer by Del Ennis—to whip the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 5 and the Boston Braves, with rookie Chet Nichols pitching four-hit ball, blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 0.

Avila-Feller Shine
Two Bombs, boys—Avila and Feller—combined to gain the Cleveland Indians undisputed possession of second place in the American League. Feller won his 16th game of the season and 224th of his major league career as the Indians topped the Washington Senators, 5 to 3.

Avila, who was honored at the Mexican embassy earlier in the day, drove home four of his team's runs, including the two winning tallies in the ninth inning. The little second sacker made three singles.

The victory raised the Tribe to within two games of the idle league-leading New York Yankees.

Red Sox Drop
Boston's Red Sox fell to third place, three games off the pace as they lost, 8 to 6 to the St. Louis Browns.

Brion Hoping To Kayo Louis

By DON THACKERY
(U.S. Sports Writer)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Cesar Brion, the youthful Argentine heavyweight, will take all his guns into the ring in San Francisco tonight hoping to prove that Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber, is an obsolete model.

Brion promised that he would be "shooting" for the ex-heavyweight champion tonight when they tangle in a 10-round return bout at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

Louis defeated Brion in Chicago last November in a 10-rounder on a decision, but the 24-year-old South American thinks he has gained enough confidence from that fight and enough experience from his subsequent bouts to give the Detroit all-time ring great a terrific fight.

Brion Improves
Brion's handlers say the 195-pound "pride of the pampas" gets better every day and point out that he has the advantage in age by 13 years and has overcome his wariness of the great Louis. In his first fight with Louis, they say, Brion was understandably awed by being in the same ring with the erstwhile king of the heavies.

Bettors, on the other hand, have made Louis the favorite. There is little betting, however. This may be due to the respect gamblers have for Brion's punching power and the fact that the Argentinian has never been knocked out and has only been to the canvas once in more than 100 fights.

Little League Baseball

SIXTH BEATS SEVENTH
Sixth Ward defeated the Seventh Ward 4-1 Tuesday evening in a regulation Little League game, played on the Seventh Ward field.

Carr was the winning pitcher. R. Cummings the loser. Both pitchers gave up only three hits. C. Huges had two of the Sixth Ward hits and batted in three runs.

EIGHTH TOPS FIFTH
Eighth Ward topped with Fifth Ward 9-1 Tuesday evening at Dehon field, with Robert Kovach holding the losers to six scattered hits, and striking out eight.

Carmuche and Gentsy had three base hits for the Eighth Ward.

FOURTH EDGES SECOND
Fourth Ward edged the Second Ward 6-4 Tuesday evening at Dehon field. Long, DiCarlo and Byler paced the Fourth Ward attack.

Donston and Welter hit home runs for the Second Ward. Long was the winning pitcher, Doran the loser.

THIRD OVER FIRST
Third Ward defeated the First Ward 5-4 Tuesday evening at Marshall field. Lefty Baker was the winner, striking out seven.

Frye and Hartman both had a double and a triple. Other stars were Olecski and Gibola.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

ONE OF THE most remarkable catches during the last seven or eight years at Conneaut Lake was made Saturday afternoon when 81-year-old Albert Anderson, McCandless avenue, Pittsburgh, caught a "Muskie" which weighed 40 pounds, two ounces. The fish was taken on a flatfish lure near Wolfe Island. Anderson, with Merle Klingensmith of Conneaut, were fishing when Anderson thought his flatfish was "caught" on the bottom. Seconds later, the "Muskie" moved off with the lure. After a 20-minute struggle, during which the "Muskie" was in and out of the boat half a dozen times, Klingensmith finally gaffed it. . . . This recalls that several years ago Wayne Sines caught what then was considered a prize "Muskie", in Conneaut Lake, and later on George Barrett caught an extra-sized one in French creek. . . . Fred Carruth, local fisherman, also had "Muskie" luck while fishing at Bay Fin lodge, Georgian Bay, Britt, Ont., one week ago. He landed a "Muskie" which weighed 15 pounds and was 35 inches in length. He caught the "lunge" with red and white artificial tin lure which he procured in Canada. It took him 15 minutes to land the fish. He first hit it with a club on the belly. It dove. When it came up again, he struck it across the neck, then landed it. . . . New Castle's representatives in the annual Jaycee All-Star football game at South High stadium in Pittsburgh on August 16 will begin practice for the game next week. . . . Dante DeFalco, Ray Latsko and John Sansone will represent New Castle high school. . . . P. H. Bridenbaugh will coach the Western Pennsylvania All-Stars in their battle against the Allegheny County All-Stars. . . . Don "Bucky" Tate was scheduled to play in the game, but according to reports has already started his studies at the University of Illinois. . . . Sansone replaces Tate on the Western Pennsylvania squad. . . . Both DeFalco and Latsko have indicated that they will enter Penn State in the fall.

HARLEY SHOFAFF read Saturday's Here and There, in which athletes and song and dance artists of the 20's were mentioned. He said we failed to mention Lanigan (Ralph) and Covert (Jim), both now of Cleveland. We recalled they were dancing before the 20's. Here and There having seen them perform in Boston and New York City theaters, before he came here. The team later became a trio, and was known as Lanigan, Dawson and Covert. Ralph is a Cuyahoga County, O. court official and Covert operates a dance studio on Cleveland's West Side, where Here and There decades ago often visited the Tuxedo club, "hang-out" of George Kitson, Jeff Gaffney, Tommy Gavigan, the late Parson McGinty, Johnny Kilbane and other members of the Cauliflower colony circulated. . . . George Binder, twin brother of Johnny, and the latter's son, Johnny Binder Jr., are here on a visit from Chicago. Only those acquainted with George and Johnny can tell them apart. . . . For pastboards to the Jefferson A. C. wrestling show, August 24, telephone 6914-M (not B). Indications are thousands of fans will see the All-Televisonists perform. . . . Ray Fredericks has forwarded a picture of the Pompton Lakes, N. J. training camp and ring, operated by Emil Baumgartner, who autographed the picture for Ray. Joe Louis and other king-pins of pugilism train there. It has quite a history, having been built by General Schuyler almost 200 years ago.

Snead-Mangrum Being Guarded

CHICAGO, Aug. 1—Industrialist George May's $50,000 All-American Golf "Championship" tournament was under way today at May's Tam O'Shanter club near Chicago in an atmosphere reminiscent of a policeman's outing. The law angle was injected by way of St. Paul Sunday night when leading money winner Lloyd Mangrum and Slammin' Sammy Snead told police they were threatened by unknown rough-voiced characters over the telephone.

Blood Donors Still Wanted

Is your blood, Type AB Negative? If it is, a donation of your blood may aid in saving Waldron Curley's life. Mr. Curley is now in the Jameson Memorial hospital, fighting desperately for his life, following an automobile accident of over a week ago.

If you do not know your type, you are urged to go to the American Red Cross office on North Beaver street, Thursday, between 1 a. m. and 8 p. m. and have your blood typed.

Type AB Negative is rare, possibly the rarest type there is. Donors of New Castle of this type had given blood and it has been used several donors of Mercer county have given blood but there is a desperate need for more.

The Lawrence County chapter Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association of which organization Mr. Curley is the secretary, has been working for a week endeavoring to get donors. The Teamsters' Union is sending in members for blood typing but the number of AB Negatives found is few.

This is an emergency involving the life of a fine young business man. If his life is to be saved it will only because sufficient Type AB negative blood is furnished.

Go to the Red Cross Thursday, not the hospital, and see if your type is right for a transfusion.

Three Stabbed To Death In Canada

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—(INS)—One man was under arrest today and Quebec provincial police investigated a suspected triple murder at Ormstown, about 55 miles southeast of Montreal.

Investigators said Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Allen, both 65, and Narcisse Cusson, 73, were stabbed to death in the Allen's farm home and suggested robbery as a motive. Identity of the suspect has not been disclosed.

Disputes Ty Cobb's Claim About West Coast Major League

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(INS)—An Arcadia, Calif., congressman disputed Ty Cobb's view that the West Coast is unable to support a major league baseball team.

Rep. Hillings (R) told a reporter that professional football teams in Los Angeles and San Francisco have proved "feasible and economical" and baseball should encounter no insurmountable obstacles.

Moreover, he added, Cobb's argument about transportation difficulties is "not a valid excuse." He said he is certain transportation schedules could be worked out.

County Men End R.O.T.C. Training

Among the 29 members of the Youngstown College Reserve Officers Training Corps who successfully completed their six-week summer camp training at the Anti-aircraft and Guided Missiles Branch of the Artillery School at Fort Bliss, Texas, were a New Castle and a New Wilmington man.

Edward H. Miller of this city, will be commissioned as a second lieutenant at once while William S. Pitzer of New Wilmington will be commissioned at the completion of the coming college year.

The uniform penny postage rate was started in England, Jan. 10, 1840.

PIN-WORMS GO! Jayne's P-W Gets Real Results

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.
